DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-9 and 12, drawn to a thin film transistor having source or drain electrodes with a branch section having branching-off parts.

Group II, claims 10 and 13, drawn to a thin film transistor including a source transition part and a drain transition part that widen from the source/drain wire toward the forming area of the semiconductor layer.

Group III, claims 11 and 14, drawn to a thin film transistor having a substantially circular semiconductor layer on a linear gate wire.

Group IV, claims 15-29, drawn to a method for forming a thin film transistor by applying a droplet of an electrode raw material in an electrode formation area.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The source or drain electrodes having a branch section in group I are not required for the inventions of groups II and III. Similarly, the claimed source transition parts of group II are not required for the inventions of groups I or III, and the circular semiconductor layer of group III is not required for groups I or II. Thus, groups I, II, and III are considered to define separate inventions having separate technical features that while usable together, need not be so.

Regarding group IV, it is noted that groups II and III do not require formation by use of a droplet of electrode raw material. In group I, although such a limitation is specified, the Examiner notes that "determination of patentability in 'product-by-process' claims is based on product itself, even though such claims are limited and defined by the process, such as forming the electrodes by applying a droplet of electrode raw material, and thus product in such claim is unpatentable if it is the same as, or obvious form, product of prior art, even if prior product was made by a different process", In re Thorpe, et al., 227 USPQ 964 (CAFC 1985). Furthermore, note that a "product-by-process claim, although reciting subject matter of claim in terms of how it is made is still product claim; it is patentability of product claimed and not recited process steps that must be established, in spite of fact that claim may recite only process limitations", In re Hirao and Sato, 190 USPQ 685 (CCPA 1976). The group I claims, drawn to a product, are not considered to require application of a droplet of electrode raw material, but rather to simply use an electrode material for which liquid application is possible. Thus, the method of applying a droplet of electrode raw material in group IV is considered a distinct invention having distinct technical features from the inventions of groups I-III, wherein the inventions may be usable together, but need not be so.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 2813

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
